

Changing Lives for Tomorrow

After-school program for youth, Prepare to Perform, combines academic support, athletic training, and mentoring. The program is offered at Bullet Performance Training in Clovis.

Academic Support

Youth spend at least 3 hours per week completing school assignments or studying for exams in computer lab located at the facility. Tutors are provided for youth needing extra help. Youth are required to submit progress report to program leaders and are expected to maintain a minimum 2.5 GPA while in the program. Youth are also expected to meet other academic guidelines during each year of participation.

Athletic Training

Youth in good academic standing receive personal training sessions 4 times per week from staff at Bullet Performance Training, who also provide training for Minor League Baseball players and college athletes. Youth have the opportunity to receive private coaching sessions in football, baseball, softball, and a variety of other sports.

Mentoring

Each youth is paired with a Mentor of his/her choice. Mentors meet with mentees for 2-3 hours a week. This valuable one to one relationship teaches the mentee important life skills and allows them to have an adult to help them mature into a productive citizen.

What better way to spend the day on the course with friends, colleagues, and local community professionals.

Join us for a round of golf along with a tasty lunch, refreshing drinks throughout the day, dinner and a chance to win wonderful prizes!

Your participation will help continue our mission to mentor youth in our community.
